MONDAY MORNING, FRBRUARY 21, 1859. EFFECT OF CLIMATE ON THE TUBULAR HAVING determined to leave Alexandria, will, from this day until the first of April next, BRIDGE AT MONTREAL.

Some weeks ago, during the intense cold, it was reported that the iron tubular bridge which is being built at Montreal, had been materially injured by the action of the frost in twisting and straining the iron. A correspondent of the New York Courier, alluding to the subject, says he has, from the highest authority, the following answer to the report:
"The tubes obey the law common to iron in any shape or form by contracting or expanding, as the case may be, one ten-thousandth part of its length for each fifteen degrees variation Fahrenheit. Thus, from pier to pier, the Victoria Bridge tubes extend 260 feet; it is fixed upon one pier—it is free to move to and fro upon the other pier upon smooth rollare provided for the purpose of rendering its

EVERY YOUNG MAN should write immediand fro upon the other pier upon smooth rellers provided for the purpose of rendering its obedience to these laws easy and uniform .-For instance, 260 feet in length of tube gives one-third of an inch as one ten thousandth part of its length. In July last the thermometer indicated a maximum of 128. On the 10th and 11th of this month, January, it marked 37 below zero, making an extreme variation of 165. This would produce a difference of eleven ten thousandth parts of the length of the tube equal to 37 inches. And this is the exact quantity found by measurement to have been the case. The extreme cold on the days mentioned induced more than ordinary notice to be taken, (the low temperature having reached a point unknown to the engineer since he has been in the country.) The sunshine and the shade produce their effect every day, but all this is known, and for it the proper rules have been adopted,

SABBATH OBSERVANCE IN NEW ORLEANS .-The New Orleans Bulletin denies that the Sabbath is generally desecrated in that city .-It says that the principal business houses on all the chief thoroughfares are as regularly closed on Sunday as in any city in the country, and that only small retail establishments around the market and on the levee precautions taken by the engineer."

"As much regard is paid to the ordinances of the Sabbath among us, and our churches are as crowded with attentive worshippers as as can be witnessed, we'll venture to say, in Washington or New York; and as to those practical works which are supposed to result from the prevalence of genuine religion, we do not think New Orleans would suffer greatly in comparison with some communities we might mention, which make a more estentatious display of their piety and virtues. At the same time we do not wish to be understood to say that we have any religon to boast of or to speak of, and that considerably more would certainly do us no harm."

> [COMMUNICATED. TO THE MEMORY OF M. E.

When twilight steals gently o'er the plain; and the sephyrs whisper softly across the smiling face of nature; when the little warblers pour forth their sweetest notes near the gurgling brook; 'tis then I think of thee! Time on rapid wings carries me back to those days when happiness smiled upon us: when our hearts bounded with joy. Peacefully us: when our hearts bounded with joy. Peacetuily did our little bark glide across the sea of life.—
Not even a floating cloud cast its dark shade to indicate an approaching storm; but the bow of promise decked the brow of heaven, inspiring our hearts with hopes of a bright future. But alas, the sweetest rose must fade, the most fragrant flower pine and die; a fit emblem of departed joys. The ruthless hand of time hath snapped the golden chain that bound thee to earth; and thy gentle nial and happier clime. Thou hast left me; but memory like a ministering spirit lights up the mists of the past; and my spirit is with thee still. Rest fair form neath the green sod. I will scatter upon thy grave the fragrant flower, whilst life endures; and after death we'll hold sweet converse together, as we pluck from the tree of life fairer and more fragrant flowers of immortal bloom. Alexandria County, February 15th, 1859. H.

AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favora-ble advantages to the farmer and others, than any other Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the in-sured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of THE CASH AND MUTUAL

PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 16th of March, 1854, since which time over five thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over thirty thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having trebled our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering pros-pects of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in settlement of losses, may determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the County where such loss happened, to be mutually
